

TWISTED MURPH

artist

I've always been a bit twisted, but real twisting started many moons ago in a scaffolding factory. During the lunch breaks I would make small animals and creations from leftover scraps of welding wire. I would give these to friends or hide them on my way home. I used to hide or leave them places because I have bipolar and was often looking for something to help me smile. I thought if a friend had found one of my creations that would have cheered me up. I wanted to be able to share that joy.

After many years I started a Facebook page and I put a note on my piece. The first 'official' Twisted Murf piece was a giraffe. The person that found it left a photo and a message on my page. Hearing how happy they were with their new found friend left me inspired. I couldn't stop.
